

GEN. SWAYNE AT THE HEAD.

CHOSEN TO LEAD THE REPUBLICANS OF THE COUNTY OF NEW-YORK.

ELECTED PRESIDENT OF THE GENERAL COMMITTEE OVER J. BAYARD BACKUS—PROCEEDED TO THE CONVENTION AT SCOTCH RITE HALL.

The General Committee of the Republicans of the County of New-York was organized at its first meeting last evening in Scotch Rite Hall, at Madison-ave. and Twenty-ninth-st., and the following officers of the committee were chosen: President—General WAGNER SWAYNE. First Vice-President—WILLIAM HOUSTON KENYON. Second Vice-President—Dr. E. J. TUCKER. Secretary—SAMUEL G. FRENCH. Treasurer—SAMUEL L. PARRISH.

There was a division upon the election of president, forty-five of the 210 voting delegates present naming J. Bayard Backus as their president, but, when General Swayne had been elected on the call of the roll his election was unanimous, and when he took the chair he was welcomed with an enthusiasm that showed there had been no personal opposition to him among the men who wanted Mr. Backus for the office. The other officers of the committee were elected without division and by acclamation.

Although 313 delegates to the General Committee were elected, only 210 voted at the meeting. According to the constitution of the new organization, it was necessary for the Assembly district organizations to contribute through the delegates toward the expenses of the General Committee $10 for each delegate, and delegates whose dues remained unpaid at 7 o'clock last evening were prohibited by the constitution from taking part in the meeting. As the names of these delegates were not called at the meeting, although one delegate who was delinquent asked to have his name called, and as only about a dozen delegates failed to respond to their names, it was known that about ninety delegates had not paid their dues.

THE MEETING CALLED TO ORDER.

It was 9 o'clock when W. H. Kenyon, the chairman of the Committee of Fifty-three, called the meeting to order and called for nomination of a temporary chairman. A delegate placed Mr. Kenyon himself in nomination, and he was chosen unanimously. Samuel G. French was chosen temporary secretary. On the adoption of a motion, made by James Terence, ex-Mayor Strong, who was present, was escorted to the platform. Mr. Kenyon announced that there was a contest in the 11th Assembly District, and named a committee on Contested Seats had been named a recess of ten minutes was taken.

The contest was against Delegates John Farley, J. J. Francis, J. J. Hayes, M. J. McCann and John A. Sullivan. Dr. Amos Hadfield, Charles Ahsa, Thomas Spencer, Edward De Soto and Thomas F. Harrington were the protestants. They declared that the others had not been fairly elected, and that the chairman had adjourned the nominating convention before the protestants could get their ticket nominated.

General George Moore Smith was chairman of the committee on Protest, and the committee decided that the delegates returned on the roll were rightfully elected, there being no other delegates voted for at the primary.

The report of the committee was adopted, and then the roll of the General Committee was called.

GENERAL SWAYNE NOMINATED.

After the call of the roll the election of president was taken up. James Terence, in nominating General Wager Swayne, said in part:

After months of patient, intelligent and efficient work performed by the officers and members of the General Committee, we come to-night to elect a president. The hour demands that the president of this organization shall be a gentleman who is wise, energetic and well known, and who shall conduct this organization in such a manner as will accomplish the results we have in view. (Applause.) There are here as Republicans, and because we represent Republican principles we were compelled to withdraw from the so-called Republican organization which we then stood and now stand. It must be, therefore, apparent to the gentleman selected for our president that he is a representative Republican, a man whose integrity is unquestioned and who is not a man who is a member of the so-called Republican organization. (Applause.) Among those present were Brigadier-General Cook, Brigadier-General Butler, and Chin E. Tz, the Chinese Consul. There was dancing after the review and presentation.

A CHICAGO THEATRE CHANGES HANDS. JACOB LITT SECURES A LEASE OF MEYER'S FOR A TERM OF YEARS.

Chicago, March 5.—Negotiations were closed today by which Meyer's Theatre was leased, for a term of years, to Jacob Litt, of New-York. Mr. Litt will take possession May 1. The interested parties declined to give the details of the transaction. Since the theatre nearly forty-one years ago, it has been generally known that the property was on the market. Dozens of ambitious managers and syndicates have been after it. For five years Mr. Litt has been desirous of controlling the Chicago playhouse. Two years ago he began negotiations for the lease, which he closed last night. The lease was made in the name of Meyer's Theatre, which is to be a reduction of prices to the scale beginning at $1. Mr. Litt plans to make the theatre a place of entertainment, and to have it under his management; the other houses in the theatre in other cities. L. L. Sharpe, who has been manager of the theatre, will continue as secretary and treasurer.

TRYING TO RESTORE HARMONY. MR. CROKER IN CONFERENCE WITH REPRESENTATIVES OF THE BROOKLYN FACTION.

The Democratic Club was crowded with members last night, but few of those present were able to meet the person they went to see, as he was busy with matters which he considered of the greatest importance to Tammany. Mr. Croker was doing his utmost to heal the breach between the Democrats of Manhattan and Brooklyn, and accordingly directed his whole evening to that purpose. He received in his private rooms Bernard J. York and John L. Shea, and for several hours discussed with them the best plan to settle the political differences between the two boroughs. None of the parties in this dispute were present, but the result, which was generally reported at the club that it was in the line of harmony between the two factions.

NEW CLUBHOUSE NEARLY COMPLETED. The members of the New-York Athletic Club are looking forward to the time when they can take possession of their new clubhouse, which is almost ready for them. Still there are a few of the veteran members who will leave the old home, in West 125th-st., and move to the new quarters, and there is no reason why the former good fortune should not reason why the new members to their hands.

Very humbly I thank you for this mark of confidence, trusting that I may be able to deserve it. I am short-lived and I know it, but I will try to make the long struggle to give compact body, precise direction and concentrated earnestness to the purpose when I have been elected. I am not a man of great energy, but I am a man of great determination, and I am a man of great confidence. I am a man of great confidence, and I am a man of great determination.

SENATOR PAVEY SPEAKS. The delegates were anxious to get through with the rest of the business, and the remaining officers of the General Committee were elected by acclamation. Several nominations were made for the office of second vice-president, but all the men named declined to be candidates, with the exception of Dr. Tucker. State Senator Pavey and Assemblyman Lambie were invited to the platform, and there was a motion to invite Senator Pavey to make an address on the new primary election bill. So much dissent was expressed by delegates who wanted to close the business of the meeting, however, that Mr. Pavey declined to speak.

Then General Swayne put a motion to make the invitation unanimous, and declared the motion carried, and Senator Pavey consented to speak. He said that if the bill was passed or not, it would not make any difference to him, as he was not a member of the organization whose members he was addressing. It was well understood at Albany that the bill had been reported as the best result of the work done, and as the nearest approach to an agreement as to what the substantial features of the law should be. Senator Pavey then proceeded to outline some of the features of the bill, and said that, although there had been a good deal of dissent, he was not a member of the organization whose members he was addressing. It was well understood at Albany that the bill had been reported as the best result of the work done, and as the nearest approach to an agreement as to what the substantial features of the law should be.

General McCook offered to withdraw that part of his motion, and offered another, simply commending the committee's work, but Mr. Lehman offered alternative resolutions supporting the present bill as far as the question of enrollment went, but opposing it in other details, not in the least dangerous to voting the party. Mr. Lehman's motion was adopted, and the resolutions were put to a vote. The chairman began to put the motion accordingly, but Mr. Lehman insisted on the right of other speakers to be heard.

An exciting scene followed, in which Mr. Lehman declared that he "protested against the law here," but eventually the chairman insisted on the right of other speakers to be heard. The meeting then adjourned.

HURST IN THE FIELD. THE FORMER ASSEMBLYMAN WILL UNDERTAKE THE REORGANIZATION OF THE REPUBLICAN PARTY IN CORTLANDT.

The election of the entire Democratic ticket at the charter election in Peekskill on Tuesday has stirred up all the Republicans, and ex-Assemblyman James W. Hurst, who has never meddled with local politics before, has undertaken to organize the party in Cortlandt. He has been elected to the position of Republican Supervisor on March 29.

Mr. Hurst told a Tribune reporter yesterday that he had taken the initial step to reorganize the party in Peekskill on Thursday evening. Heretofore there has been no basis of representation in that town, but at Mr. Hurst's suggestion each of the eight wards has elected a delegate, and there will be one delegate-at-large, making twenty-five in all, who shall constitute the committee on the party. The delegates will be selected, regardless of faction, and they will be held responsible for their respective districts. The committee will meet on Thursday to elect delegates to the town convention on March 14, when James H. Haight will be nominated for Supervisor.

MARKSMEN'S BADGES PRESENTED BY COLONEL JOHN T. CAMP.

A review and presentation of marksmen's badges took place at the 22d Regiment Armory last night. The reviewing officer was Colonel John T. Camp, retired. He was accompanied by Major E. B. Burton and Lieutenants J. M. Smith, George C. Miller and Harry Benke, all former officers of the regiment. At the close of the drill, as the last command was given and the soldiers stood at parade rest, the reviewing officer said: "The Star-Spangled Banner." The men instantly stood at attention, and the audience sang in unison.

The presentation of marksmen's badges, which was the evening's review, was made by Colonel Camp. There were 604 badges given. The expert class had as highest scorer Private C. L.
